Carlile Expands Service to Hawaii

(Anchorage, Alaska) Carlile Transportation Systems announced new containership and barge service between the U.S. West Coast and Hawaii. Customers with business contacts in Hawaii can now depend on an expanded Carlile Transportation System network that encompasses the 50th state.

Carlile offers containership and barge services to Honolulu from Tacoma, Oakland and Long Beach. Delivery among the islands is via a seamless inter-island shipping network. Carlile's expertise in project cargo, schedule-sensitive delivery, and on-time logistics ensures the same high level of service our customers have come to expect.

"Carlile continues to recognize and address our customers' shipping needs," said Carlile Transportation CEO Harry McDonald, "With the addition of service to Hawaii we can offer customers the service they have come to expect: delivery that is on time every time."

Founded in 1980 by brothers John and Harry McDonald, Carlile has grown from two tractors to one of Alaska's largest trucking companies. Carlile Transportation Systems is based in Anchorage, Alaska and has 635 employees, including 110 at the Tacoma location. Carlile terminals serve Alaska from Anchorage, Fairbanks, Kenai, Kodiak, Prudhoe Bay/Deadhorse, Seward, Forest Lake, Tacoma, Houston and Edmonton.
